EXECUTIVE STRATEGIC REVIEW

The Strategic AI Landscape 2026

CLASSIFIED // STRATEGIC ADVISORY

TINY TEAMS, ENORMOUS OUTPUT

$1k

Daily Token Spend

Benchmark per human engineer at StrongDM's Software Factory. Revenue per employee is exceeding traditional SaaS benchmarks by 5-10x.

THE DARK FACTORY

A system that turns specifications into working software with zero human code reviews. The new competitive baseline for development.

The bottleneck is no longer "Can we build it?"

The bottleneck is: "Should we build it?"

INDUSTRY BENCHMARKS

Adoption at Scale

Zapier reports 89% AI adoption across 360 people with 800+ internal agents. Cursor hit $100M ARR with fewer than 20 employees.

> "Tiny teams. Enormous output. The denominator is moving."

THE STRATEGY GAP

Specification

Inability to describe software with enough precision for machines.

Organization

Charts built for human-to-human coordination become friction.

Talent

Implementation speed vs. systems thinking and clarity.

The Legacy Challenge

The counterweight to the hype: Existing systems carrying real revenue without specifications.

BROWNFIELD MIGRATION

Phase 1

Accelerate existing work (Level 2-3).

Phase 2

Generate specs from existing code.

Phase 3

Redesign CI/CD for agent volume.

Phase 4

Shift to Level 4-5 Patterns.

TIMELINE: YEARS, NOT MONTHS

THE TALENT RECKONING

The career ladder is hollowing out: AI at the bottom, Experts at the top, and a thinning middle where learning once happened.

HOLLOWING THE MIDDLE

The Model Floor

"Adequate" implementation is now what the models do. Junior roles are disappearing as basic coding is automated.

The Expert Ceiling

Demand for excellence has never been higher. Systems thinking and intuition are the new differentiators.

"The constraint moves from 'Can we build it?' to 'Should we build it?' – and that has always been the harder, more valuable question."

THE NEW ORGANIZATION

Flat. Small. Judgment-Dense.

The layers of coordination necessary to manage hundreds of engineers become unnecessary when agents do the implementation.

- Radical flattening of hierarchies.
- Focus on customer intuition.
- Premium on specification clarity.
